Social & Emotional Learning Through Art

SERIES OVERVIEW

A suite of educational videos and journal activities for independent or synchronous learning

This series, recommended for grades 4–7, features works of art that invite reflection on common human experiences: courage, loneliness, hope, resilience, self-expression, reflection, and concern for others.

Hosted by the Blanton’s director of education, Ray Williams, each lesson is designed to help build social and emotional competencies related to: self-awareness, self-management, responsible decision-making, social awareness and relationship skills. Students will also develop their visual literacy and writing skills, as they consider the various works of art and their connections to life.

STUDENTS WORKING INDEPENDENTLY

Step 1 — Watch Video
Ask your students to watch one 3–5 minute video focused on a work of art from the Blanton. Students are invited to look closely and consider what the art has to say about the related theme.

Step 2 — Complete Journal Activity
Journal prompts accompany each video. Journal pages may be printed out, or the questions and activities may be completed in the student’s own notebook.

Journal pages are numbered and designed to be printed, folded, and combined into a booklet. We recommend assembling the journal pages into a cartonera, a homemade personalized book with a decorated cardboard cover.

These videos provide instructions in English and Spanish to make your own cartonera (adult supervision required):

Cómo hacer un libro cartonero: bit.ly/SELCartonera1
How to make a cartonera book: bit.ly/SELCartonera2
SYNCHRONOUS CLASS DISCUSSION

Teachers should preview each video and the accompanying journal prompts before presenting for class discussion. The preview will provide an opportunity to anticipate student responses, link ideas to other points in the curriculum, and generate questions for discussion. Below you will find sample questions for each theme that complement the journal prompts; class discussion may be a helpful warm-up for the written assignments.

Session 1: Trying Something New

- What do you do when you are bored? What new things could you try to do?
- What does it feel like to be a beginner? What are the risks? The pleasures?
- What skill have you been improving over time?

SEL Competencies: Self-management; Responsible decision-making

Session 2: Strength & Hope

- What are some of your personal strengths?
- How do you use these strengths in challenging situations?
- What other resources might help you deal with hard times?
- Where do you find hope?

SEL Competencies: Self-awareness

Session 3: Caring for Ourselves & Others

- What are some of the causes of loneliness?
- How can you tell when somebody else is lonely?
- What might you do to support somebody who is lonely or depressed?
- When you feel lonely, what can you do to cheer yourself up?

SEL Competencies: Self-awareness; Social awareness; Relationship skills
Session 4: Action & Reflection

- Why do you think the artist chose not to emphasize David as a victorious hero?
- What might David be thinking about?
- How are fear and courage related?
- What stories do we have about being brave?
- What opportunities do we have to think about somebody else’s point of view?
- Can we empathize even with somebody who is not in our group?

SEL Competencies: Self-awareness; Relationship skills

Session 5: Looking for Joy

- How do you experience time in nature?
- Where do you look for joy?
- What is the connection between gratitude and joy?
- How do you express your gratitude?

SEL Competencies: Self-awareness

More sessions to come! Your feedback on these resources will inform future offerings. Please share your thoughts via this brief survey: bit.ly/BlantonSELSurvey

---